

PAM OEI

THE 'PALM READER' SAYS: This hand obviously belongs to someone who is very small but has a big personality and loud voice. She is a colourful character with many faces, and has a strong connection with dim sum.

LORETTA CHEN

THE 'PALM READER' SAYS: The scrapbook feel of this palm indicates a dynamic character who is a mish-mash of many elements. There is also a sense of the theatrical. The colourful background may indicate interesting family connections — a famous brother, perhaps?

CLARENCE LEE

THE 'PALM READER' SAYS: This person has deft fingers and a creative streak — he should consider an artistic career, possibly in make-up. The fact that he drew a hand instead of outlining his own may reflect a lack of ego.

LEND A HAND...

The campaign is called Stop Sex Trafficking of Children and Young People and it's a global petition to halt sex trafficking. The Body Shop has gone full force behind this cause, enlisting the help of international celebs as well as 12 local stars to spread the word. Wanna help? Buy the Soft Hands Kind Heart Hand Cream ($14.90). Profits will fund awareness activities in schools and research on sex trafficking in Singapore, as well as benefit young people who have been trafficked and at-risk children in Vietnam. You can sign the petition at The Body Shop stores or at www.thebodyshop.com.sg.
